The Langtry.

Chicago, 5.—Last night's performance by Langtry, "An Unequal Match" in which she appeared as Helen Grazebrook, capture the critics who affirm that she is either improving in a very marked manner, or that the piece was better adapted to her than any other she has given here. Her methods are correct and action intelligent and refined. She seems to be growing into favor very rapidly. It is stated that the lady now traveling with the "Lily" is not her sister-in-law, but a distant relative. Mrs. Langtry's husband is said to have no sister living. Mrs. Langtry has not been much recognized in Chicago society. The fault lies about equally with her and society. She has refused several invitations, but the more desirable private families and social circles have not been open to her. The fast New York train over the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, due at 10.20 this morning, was fifteen minutes late. It had among its passengers Frederick Gebhardt and Messrs. F. A. Maura and C. A. Swartz, of New York. There was not half a dozen persons upon the depot platform when the train pulled up. A moment thereafter the passengers began to alight, and a young man dressed in the height of fashion, wearing a brown ulster overcoat, a Derby hat of the same color and terra cotta kids, alighted from the train. It was but a moment before the passengers said: "There goes Freddie Gebhardt." The depot employees got a glance at him as he passed out, and proceeded to walk to the Grand Pacific Hotel. On his arrival at the hotel he was directed to the register and registered as follows: F. Gebhardt and servant, F. A. Maura, C. A. Swartz, New York. He was immediately shown to his apartments, rooms 138, 135 and 137, where he ordered breakfast at once. In this connection the following from New York is interesting:

Your correspondent heard this morning early that Maura, a young Italian painter here, was going to Chicago. He went to the station to see him if possible. He found Gebhardt also buying a ticket. The gentlemen look separate coaches. It is likely there will be some sensational developments at it is said at the clubs that Gebhardt is furiously jealous of the painter, Maura, with whom it is said the innocent Jersey Lily has been corresponding since she left New York. Maura is an artist of some reputation, and is popularly supposed to belong to a morganatic way to the reigning royal Italian House. His infatuation for Mrs. Langtry was not talked of when she was here, but Chicago will have the sensation. It is said Gebhardt has made his trip to Chicago chiefly to hunt down the reporter who had a sensational interview with Langtry, and represents that he saw coming from her room a letter from Freddie. The reporter refuses to tremble.

Chicago, 5.—The Journal says: "The name of F. Gebhardt appeared in large, scrawly characters to-day on the register of the Grand Pacific Hotel. It was followed by the words 'and servant,' and underneath it was a signature in the same hand F. A. Maura, all from New York." It was hardly to have been expected that he would have had the nerve, but he has taken rooms on the floor above that in which the pursued divinity dwells and it is expected before Sunday his equipment will be along and ready for active service in the Boulevard. The announcement of the advent of the young man caused a slight flurry of curiosity around the rotunda of the hotel. They could only say he appeared a very gentlemanly looking young fellow. He was escorted to apartments on the 100 floor, and there he went, declining to have any breakfast. After a while he took a promenade around the hall wearing a nobby suit of clothes and sporting a nobby little cane, and looking quite like a nobby little $80,000 a year young fellow of pleasure. Immediately upon his arrival Fred proceeded to inquire, and sent a card written in French, not to Mrs. Langtry, but to Mrs. Langtry's maid. The maid examined it and disappeared and Fred went around with his New York friends to examine the condition of the streets.

Utah Lead Interest.

Washington, 5.—L. E. Holden, of Utah, is here to represent the interests of mining industries of that territory and prevent, if possible, the proposed reduction of tariff on lead, and lead ores. He was sent by the Utah Mine Protective Association. Several other similar states and territorial associations are being formed for this purpose. The proposed reduction is from one and a half cents to one cent per pound. It is claimed that Utah has produced 22½ per cent. of all the lead produced in the United States. It is estimated that 120,000 tons were produced in the United States in 1882 and of this Utah produced 30,000 tons. Without a protective tariff it is claimed that not a mine nor furnace producing lead ore bullion, could compete with the Spanish, they having cheap labor and water transportation. The duty collected on English lead is 5 cents per pound. It is proposed to reduce this to 4 cents. The reduction proposed on lead made from Spanish ore is from 6 to 5 cents per pound. It is shown in a recent official statement in connection with the subject, that the total value of precious metals, including lead, produced west of the Missouri River during the year was $321,176,476; the total value of bullion including gold and silver, produced during the same time was $92,342,979.

The "Passion Play."

New York, 5.—Mayor Edson received Salmi Morse and his attorney, Howe, this morning. He said unless they had something new to present bearing on the subject, he would render an immediate decision. Howe said they were entitled to a license under the statutes. No mention of what is to be produced at the shrine was required by the law, and it would be just as proper to compel Wallace to say what he intended to produce in his theatre next week. The mayor said he had devoted some time to the consideration of the matter. He found that the production of the "Passion Play" would be obnoxious to many citizens; he therefore declined to grant the license. He admitted the fact that the license fee had been tendered. It is understood an effort will be made in the supreme court to-day, to obtain a mandamus to compel the mayor to grant the license.

Now a drink, not sold in bars, rooms, but a reliable non-alcoholic tonic medicine, useful at all times, and in all seasons, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

The Chinese Prohibition.

New York, 5.—Herald Washington special: The attorney-general has given an opinion that the prohibition against Chinese entering our ports, applies only to laborers and others intending to remain in the United States, and that the law does not prohibit Chinese of any condition landing in or traveling through the country whose purpose is to go elsewhere. It would have been odd had the construed the law differently, for in that case the United States would have been as to Chinese much more exclusive than any country in the world has been since Commodore Perry wrenched open Japan. By the way, suppose the Japanese had met Perry's demand for open ports by the production of a law prohibiting all Americans from entry, residence or travel in Japan, except students and ministers duly accredited? Probably the excellent Commodore would have denounced them as silly barbarians.

Cold.

New York, 5.—The snow is about three inches deep, and storm continues. In the northern part of the state the thermometer is from eight to ten below.

Chicago, 5.—The weather is cold and threatening more snow. Reports from all parts of northern Illinois and Iowa indicate a snow fall last night of about six to eight inches. Trains are considerably delayed, but none abandoned yet. In the far north the thermometer is very low, but the weather is moderating.

Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't know just what is the matter, but they have a combination of pains and aches, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, malaria, intermittent fevers, &c.

Mr. Simon Blanchard, a well-known citizen of Haystack, Meade county, Kentucky, says: "My wife had been sick for a long time, and her constitution was all broken down and she was unable to work. She was advised to use Brown's Iron Bitters, and found it to work like a charm. We would not now be without it for any consideration, as we consider it the best tonic in the world."

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is not a drink and does not contain whiskey. It is the only preparation of Iron that causes no injurious effects. Get the genuine. Don't be imposed on with imitations.
